THE CHESS BOARD. BY OWEN MERSDITE.

My little love, do you remember, Ere we were grown so sadly wise. Those evenings in the bleak December. Curtain'd warm from the snowy w When you and I played chess togel Checkmated by each other's eyes?

Ah! still I see your soft white hand Hovering warm o'er queen and knight, Brave pawns in valunt bettle stand, The double costies guard the wings, The bishop, beet on distant things, Moves sidling through the fight. Our fugers touch, our glances meet And faiter: falls your golden hair Against my cheek; your bosom sweet Is beaving. Bown the field your on Rides slow her soldiery between, And cheeks me unaware.

Ab, me ! the little battle's done ;
Dispersed is all its chivalry.
Full many a move, since them have we,
'Mid its's perplaxing checkers made,
And many a game with Fortune player
What is it we have won?

This, this at least—if this alone—
That hever, never, nevermone,
As in these old still nights of year,
(Ere we were grown as easily wise),
Can you and I shut out the skies,
Chut out the world and wintry weather,
And, eyes exchanging warmth with eyes,
Play chess, as then we played, together?

THINE OWN.

The Fenian Outbreak in Ireland. LONDON, March 7 .- Dispatches received during the day from Dublin and Cork, give the following particulars of the last outbreak in Ireland: The fight took place Tuesday night at Talaght, about eight miles south of Dublin, between armed police and a large body of Fenians, one of the latter was killed and five wounded. The police captured eighty prisoners and six loads of ammunition and up to dark to-day over two hundred engaged in the fight retreated to the hills porth of Dublin, with Lord Strath-naixn, commander of the British forces in Ireland, in vigorous pursuit. The police station at Killmack, nineteen miles south of Limerick, in the county of Munster, was attacked by two hundred Fenians, who were repuised, leavng three of their number dead on the leid and losing fourteen prisoners. The barracks of the police at Dromore county, down in the north, had been fired by an incendiary and totally destroyed. The manager of the Union bank and a olice messenger had been shot in

Reports from Dublin state that the Fenians appear well supplied with rations, and seem to have risen in all parts of Ireland. They attacked the coast guard stationed at Killegah, in the county of Clare, and took away their arms. Aselves with arms from all these laces. The excitement in Tipperary

LONDON, March 8. - Several Irish and man felor am English papers received, publish a pro-clamation purporting to come from the government of the Irish republic. It de-clares that after ages of outrage and vain appeals to reason and justice, they have at last resolved to appeal to arms to rescue them from serfdom and establish a national union, public property and po-litical freedom, and bring about the consequent separation of the church and state. As republicans they appeal to re-publicans throughout the world for sympathy and support.

Duniss, March 8.—A heavy storm prevailed in this vicinity night before last. Large quantities of snow fell, and it is said the insurgents who took refuge in the mountains are suffering se-verely from cold and exposure. Donohue, the leader of the Fenians at the fight at Fallaght, has since died, and three of his companions are also on the roads running into Waterford were torn up. Large quantities of am-munition and materials for producing

Greek fire have been discovered and seized by the soldiers and police in various parts of the country.

Troopes are being rapidly dispatched to Ireland from all available points.

London, March 8.—Dispatches from Public Cork and other results. Dublin, Cork and other ports in Ireland, received here during the morning and afternoon, give the following intelli-

A body of Fenians, 1500 strong, are reported threatening the town of Tippe-rary. The troops had a battle with a Aforce of rebels some 300 strong were also beaten by soldiers at Clonmel. Several of the former were killed, and eighteen prisoners taken and a quantity of arms captured.

The Fenians strip private houses of all guns and other weapons.

Armed hands of men are moving through the the countless of Clare, Tipperary and Limerick, and have frequent rary and Limerick, and have frequent conflicts with the police.

A Dr. Cleary is reported to have been killed at Killamack.

Incendiary fires are frequent in the city and county of Limerick.

An Irish correspondent of the London Times says Ireland is full of Insh-Americans, and urges their vere pun-ishment. In their case is very diffi-cult to apprehend is very diffi-though they give inem, for people affack on Slatern on Killmallock. He concludes by saying that the present rising is considered a failure in Dublin.

THE following, from the New Orleans OFFICE-Boom No. S. over the DeSoto Savings Pleagune, shows the manner in which the military despotism bill was origi- No. 20 Madison St., Memphis, Tenn., nally passed by the senate. It is a striking commentary on republicon gov- Will, firmish Plans and Specifications ernment: CAUCUS RULE. The Stevens-Sherman bill, which passed the senate by a vote of 29 to 10, was first considered in caucus by the republicans of the senate. The vote there were 15 yeas to 14 nays; so it became a party measure by a majority of one vote.

Architect and Engineer, Irving Block, 3d Floor, North Stalrway. This one majority in caucus bound the twenty-nine, and cast their whole vote in the senate for a measure to which fourteen of them were opposed.

The twenty-nine constituted a majority of the senate, which, including only the senate, which, including only the senators of twenty-six states, consisis, de facto, of fifty-two members.
The majority of one vote, therefore, decided absolutely the action of the whole senate; that is, had all the potency of fifty-two members.
But there are twenty senators, from states, who are virtually excluded from the right to vote; a full senate The majority of one in a caucus of twenty-nine, therefore, ruled with the full force of a whole agreet of twenty-nine, therefore, ruled with the full force of a whole sanate of seventy-two members.

In brief, diteen senators have disposed of the consolidated vote of seventy-two, on the most mamentous question which ever occurred in the civil nistory of this country; being no less a question than this: Whether ten states and eight millions of freeborn inhabitants shall be outlawed by a government calling itself republican.

This majority of one, fifteen to four-This majority of one, fifteen to four-teen, has not only the power of a majority to carry with it a majority of the whole number of the senate, but has the further power of overruling the executive veto, and thus dictating to two branches of the government. The fifteen by carrying the minority, fourteen, with them, make up a two-thirds vote; so that if the measure should come back with the president's veto, there is, without chance of vote, still two-thirds with out chance of vote, still two-thirds with
